

Float – A Soothing Lounger

Design: Jens Juul Eilersen

An ultra-low lounge sofa that invites you to sit down, relax and float, is now a part of the Eilersen Family. Combine it in any way so that it is perfect for you and your family.

A fusion of comfort and flexibility

“What is so unique about the Float sofa, is that it is extremely low but at the same time it possesses the best comfort,” explains Designer Jens Juul Eilersen.

The low frame has a distinct lounge feel to it, which is enhanced by the large seat cushions and the movable back pillows. The depth of the sofa is 100 cm, which is perfect as it is not too deep but just deep enough to create a lounge feeling.

The back pillows consist of a low version and a higher pillow in front of it, which provide the perfect support and comfort.

Combine the sofa any way you like. You can have a classic 2- or 3-seater or you can combine several modules into one long sofa for the entire family.

Lounge in Style

The 100% down filling gives the feeling that the sofa embraces you as you sink down into it. The true lounge ambiance is stylishly achieved with the wide modules, which make the sofa look as one elongated piece, where there is a minimum of lines that interfere.

The Float sofa is perfect for both large as well as a smaller scale living rooms and it seems to be almost floating mid-air due to the hidden legs.
